In 2004, JHP completed the first phase of this multi-phased contract. Enlisted Soldier housing included the design of 984 units of housing (492 duplexes) distributed throughout the Fort Hood Army Base on 180 acres. Twelve unit types were designed to mix and match ensuring diversity on throughout the site. Units averaged 1,750 SF and were all 4-bedroom 2 1/2-bath as required by MILCON standards. In addition, homes were designed to comply with the Army's Spirit in Sustainable Design program which is generally equivalent to Energy Star rating.
